1. Descriptive report of the event for website (Sample report is given below)

Tableau is software that is highly used to design presentations and data analytics. The software holds many tools helping to design and analyze the data and visualize the data presentation from different study angles. Importing data from Excel files and developing the data presentation using multiple tools under different geographical regions. It enhances the student's understanding of the basics of data visualization and analytics tools and adopts the tool for their regular presentation.

It is much beneficial to the final semester students to present their research project content using standardized Tableau software in their research project.
