

Deanery of Humanities and Social Sciences

September 05, 2019

The Deanery of Humanities and Social Sciences celebrated one of the most important professions – teaching, by gifting all our teachers with a lifelong gift - a plant. To forward this year's waste-reduction initiative, the Council Members bought coir pots instead of plastic pots from Pinia to reduce plastic usage in the campus. From the Lalbagh nursery, we bought peperomia plants which are indoor plants that help purify oxygen. These plants require minimum care. Along with being medicinal, the plants are a beautiful addition to any desk or room.

The Deanery Student Council members wrote messages which were given to the teachers along with the plant. On 5th September, 2019 the University Student Council members went to all the teachers in each Department, showing gratitude and thanking them for their invaluable service to the institution.
