

UNIVERSITY OF CINCINNATI, OHIO, USA
INTERNATIONAL SUMMER SCHOOL
For II & III Year Business & Commerce Students

July 3-16, 2022

The University of Cincinnati (UC) International Summer Program is designed to provide international students an intensive and short-term educational program specifically tailored to meet the needs of a cohort of students developed in cooperation between UC International and an institution of higher education from overseas.

The curriculum will consist of classroom instruction, laboratory work, and/or American cultural enrichment activities. Total hours of instruction will be at least 18 hours per week.

Participants will select 1 program track from the following:

TRACK 1: Block Chain Technology

The introduction of bitcoin sparked a revolution towards a decentralized, digital economy. One of the fundamental elements of cryptocurrencies like bitcoin is the block chain - an immutable, digital ledger of transactions that records not only financial transactions, but anything of value.

Discussion on digital currencies, digital asset valuation, decentralized finance applications, and non-fungible tokens (NFTs). Summer School will also explore distributed data structures and computing architecture and present a framework to analyze smart contract capabilities and platforms. We will also analyze the future direction, opportunities, risks and challenges of block chain technology.

TRACK 2: Technology Entrepreneurship Boot camp

The greater Cincinnati area is on the forefront of becoming a global economic leader around the areas of supply chain, logistics and sustainability. Summer School will introduce you to these sectors, introduce to you the regional business leaders making it happen and challenge you to identify and create your own venture. Using robotics as the foundation of your venture technology, participants will create a business model and pitch their concept in front of regional leaders for feedback.
