Major Research Project Regulations 2018

Preamble:

Research and continuing activity form the backbone of a university. Traditionally, universities have been the centers for research, though the government has a network of science and technology laboratories for research & development, the major base for research remain within the universities.

Accordingly CHRIST (Deemed to be University), Bengaluru, assumes a responsive role in order to promote advanced academic research in diversified disciplines through the establishment of the Centre for Research-Projects in 2010. The Centre for Research-Projects in its endeavor to help society, businesses and enterprises to manage risk and uncertainty has different professional groups, who assist and take up 'pure', 'applied', inter-disciplinary, and multi-disciplinary research assignments. This research projects focus on various issues related to the economy, society, industry, Government agencies etc. in the form of Major Research Projects (MRPs), Monographs, Working Papers, Scholarly Book, and Instructional software.

The major research projects conceived by the Centre and executed by faculty members of CHRIST (Deemed to be University) at different levels in social sciences, natural and physical sciences and applied science disciplines, not only adds significant value to the society but are also important in the ever changing global scenario. The monograph, which is an in-depth study on a specific theme, concept or model, doctrine; treatise or a report, is published by the Centre to provide an in-depth insight to drive further research or application. Working Paper or Work paper that the Centre publishes provides scholars an opportunity to further deliberate and expand. Scholarly book is to provide an in depth examination of current events; discuss and reflect on original research; and discuss on professional expertise. Another level is Instructional software, sole purpose is to develop e-learning, simulation, gaming, mobile learning etc., applications to support instruction and/or learning.

After inception, the Centre has approved 104 MRPs, 45 monographs, and 77 working paper. The track record has been 44 MRPs, 22 Monographs and 38 Working papers.

For all the above projects, faculty members, industrial executives, scientists from institutions/organizations like the Indian Institute of Management, Bangalore; Indian Institute of Science, Bangalore; Institute for Social and Economic Change, Bangalore; National Law School of India University, Bangalore; Karnatak University, Dharwad; Gulbarga University, Gulbarga; Bangalore University, Bangalore ; PHILIPS, Bangalore; Institute for Fiscal Policy (Government of Karnataka) , Bangalore; Indian Statistical Institute, Bangalore; Azim Premji University, Bangalore; Vikram Sarabhai Space Centre, Trivandrum; ISRO, Bangalore; Indian Institute of Astrophysics; National Institute of Technology. Suratkal etc., are involved in the review of proposals and bi-annual reviews. These projects are approved with due internal vetting, external review and personal defense of proposal before a duly constituted committee.

The highlights of the projects are: bi-annual reviews with external experts, publication of research papers, presentations at seminars/conferences, involvement of students, discussion with colleagues, inter-disciplinary approaches, panel discussions, interaction with experts, field surveys, involvement of departmental/deanery colleagues, and engagement of students.

The initiatives have helped the researcher-professors to tie up with the institutions / departments / organizations; use facilities at other institutions & centre's; align the projects with sectoral / organizational expectations; assist the policy makers in formulation of policies; advance the research activities of national and international themes and collaborate with research institutions of national and international repute.

Normally it is used for a work intended to be a complete and detailed exposition of a substantial subject at a level more advanced than that of a textbook. Monographs form a component of the review literature in science and engineering.
