Shaping the future

DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS

BATCH OF 2016

DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS

From understanding basic human behavior to explaining the macroscopic growth of economies across the globe, economics as a study tries to uncover and illuminate the practical aspects of our life. In doing so, an economist is trained to become an intellectual with abilities to deeply comprehend history and consequently enhance our present. With such combined reactive and predictive skills, we economists not only have the potential and privilege to safeguard our today but also guide the world towards a better and secure tomorrow.

VISION

The vision of the department is to develop uniqueness for the course through unbiased approach to ideologies and realms of knowledge and at the same time, attaining versatility in application of skills and tools to issues and problems in economics recognizing the contribution of other disciplines.

MISSION

The mission of the Department of Economics at Christ University is to engage in research to generate cutting edge ideas relevant to address contemporary issues of the global economy. It is also our endeavour to teach and prepare a diverse group of students and equip them with advanced knowledge and skills to lead the world through a steady path of progression.

FROM THE DEAN'S DESK

This Placement brochure is symbolic of two significant motives: firstly, it reflects the readiness of the student body to face the real challenges that await them from the outside world. Having acquired the required skills from a formal university system the students exude enormous confidence with which they are bound to make a difference to their own lives and to the society they are part of. Secondly, the brochure signifies the commitment of the department and the institution in their educational mission - enabling the student body to move from one stage to another. It is a facilitation process, an enabling mechanism wherein the learning's of the students are proudly announced to the outside world for it to choose or select from the best. At Christ University we believe Knowledge is free, and must eventually reach and benefit the society and here we are, through this process making it happen. This is yet another way of fulfilling one of our core values namely social responsibility.

As the Dean of Humanities and Social Sciences I take immense pleasure in wishing the Department of Economics and the graduating students of Applied Economics great success in their mission to serve the society through such academic contributions. May the students realize their personal and professional dreams! Let their contribution to the society be always positive and constructive.

Best wishes!

Dr John J Kennedy

Dean, Humanities and Social Sciences.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOD

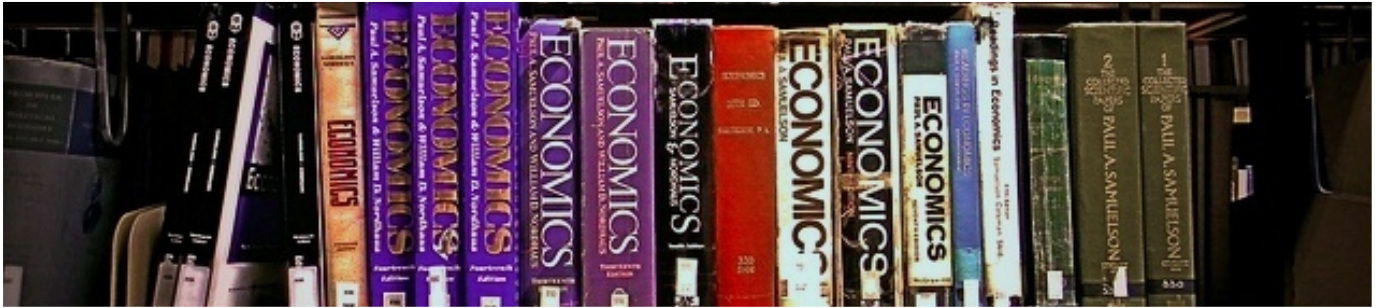

I take pride to present to you the graduating batch of MA Applied Economics (2014-16). This batch has been handpicked from diverse backgrounds and this diversity is what brings about the exclusivity in this batch. We have people not only with prior work experience but also from different parts of the world coming and joining us to imbibe our culture and education into their lives. The intellectually stimulating environment and the academic rigor have prepared them to make decision affecting their lives.

I extend a hearty invitation to you to visit our university and have a chance to interact with our students. We look forward to building a long term relationship in the pursuit of an infinite excellence.

Prof. Emmanuel P.J
