

Questioning skills

As part of skills development, MSW first years were trained on questioning skills. The session was held on 23rd Wednesday from 9-11 am. First half of the session focused on educating them on different aspects of interviewing and introduced them to questions that elicited information from clients. The second session was demonstration from the teacher about good aspects of interviewing, what are good question models, and questions to be avoided. The students participated well in this programme. A follow up session is needed during the field work practice once the students have encountered difficulties to help them deal with challenges.

Bino thomas