COST OF ATTENDANCE (INDICATIVE)

VCU TUITION & FEE

For the 2026–27 academic year, the VCU MS tuition and fees are USD 21,600. This assumes students transfer six semester credits from CHRIST University B.Sc. A&A (Hons.) program to the VCU program. Those who do not transfer six credits as stated above will have to complete two additional courses at VCU and therefore must pay roughly 20% more in tuition and fees.

The VCU Board of Visitors sets tuition and fees in June each year, and any revised rates take effect from August of the same year. Historically, these costs increase by approximately 3% per year. Accordingly, actual expenses at the time of enrollment may be higher than the current estimates.

BUDGET ESTIMATE

For planning purposes, the estimated all-inclusive cost for one academic year at VCU during 2026-27, including tuition, fees, mandatory health insurance, and housing expenses is approximately as follows:

Fall 2026 Tuition & Fees.....$10804

Spring 2027 Tuition & Fees.....$10804

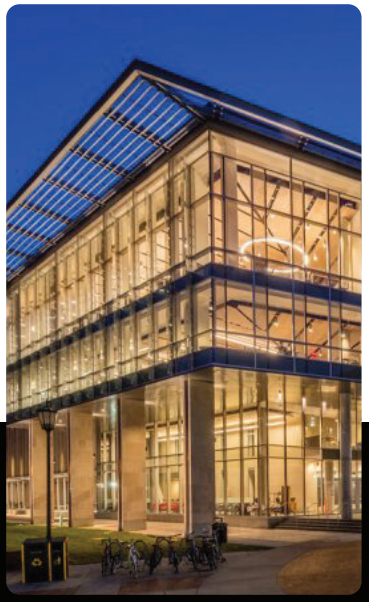

Books, Supplies, and Health Insurance $4702

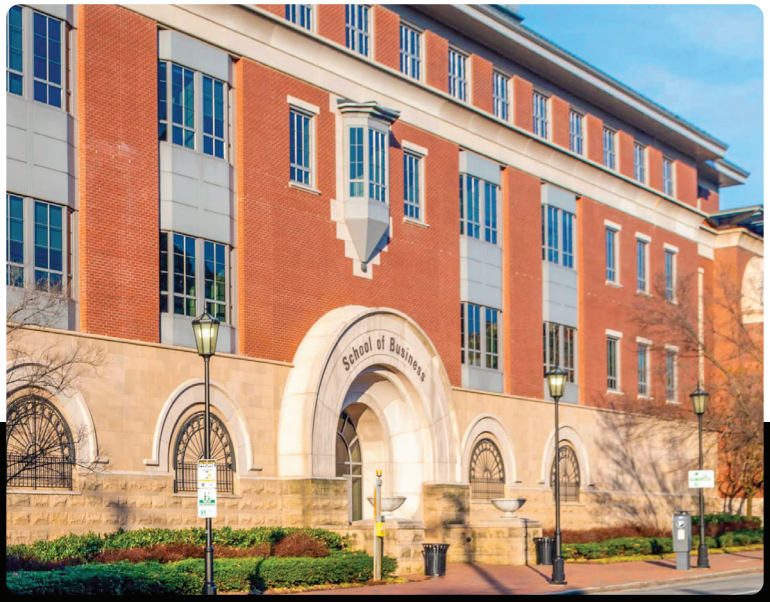

Hostel Expenses $11600

Total.....USD $37910

Equivalent to INR 36.39 lakhs at an exchange rate of INR 96 per USD.

WWW.VCU.EDU

Located in Richmond, Virginia, VCU is just a two-hour drive from Washington, DC, and a one-hour flight from New York City. Richmond—home to six Fortune 500 companies and a diverse, international community, including Indian-origin Americans—offers an ideal environment for cultural immersion, professional networking, and launching a global career. VCU is recognized for its highly ranked academic programs across its distinguished colleges, including the Medical College of Virginia, the School of the Arts, the College of Engineering, and the School of Business.

WWW.BUSINESS.VCU.EDU

The VCU School of Business is accredited by AACSB International, a distinction held by fewer than 6% of business schools worldwide. It enrolls more than 3,700 students across its bachelor's, master's, certificate, and doctoral programs and is widely recognized for its global outlook, diverse student and faculty community, and strong engagement with the business sector. With a global network of over 40,000 alumni, the School of Business connects students to leaders working in finance, government, startups and the non-profit sector around the world.
