Synopsis of the Activity (Description)

Highlights of the Activity	The workshop “E-Teaching Unlocked: Step Into the Future of Teaching” offered participants hands-on exposure to digital content creation and online teaching practices. The sessions effectively combined theoretical concepts with practical training in e-content development and instructional design. Participants learned to create engaging presentations using Canva and PowerPoint, design learner-centred materials, and align digital content with curriculum objectives. Emphasis was placed on inclusivity, clarity, and learner engagement. A key feature of the workshop was the group-based project, where participants developed instructional content on selected topics and recorded videos in the studio. This provided

	real-time experience in camera handling, voice delivery, and screen interaction. They were also trained to integrate presentations into recorded lessons. Participants received practical training in video editing using DaVinci Resolve, including background selection, audio synchronisation, and visual alignment. Sessions on LMS platforms, gamification tools, Quizziz, VARK, and other interactive applications further strengthened their digital teaching skills. Training in voice culture and presentation etiquette enhanced their confidence and communication abilities.
Key Takeaways	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Participants developed a clear understanding of the e-content creation process, from planning to final editing. ● The workshop enabled them to design structured and engaging digital learning materials using tools such as Canva and LMS platforms. ● Exposure to DaVinci Resolve strengthened their ability to produce high-quality instructional videos. ● Training in voice modulation and presentation skills improved their effectiveness in online teaching. ● Familiarity with gamification and interactive tools supported meaningful use of technology in classrooms.
Summary of the Activity	The workshop offered comprehensive exposure to modern digital teaching practices essential for future educators. Participants gained insights into best practices in e-content development, learner-centred instructional design, and the psychological aspects of learning. Sessions on voice modulation, presentation etiquette, and neuropsychology helped participants improve their communication skills and professional presence in both online and offline classrooms. Hands-on demonstrations and guided practice with tools such as Canva, DaVinci Resolve, LMS platforms, Microsoft Copilot, H5P, Lumi Education, Gimkit, Genially, and other gamification applications, as well as interactive learning software, enabled participants to understand the practical application of technology in education. Studio-based

	recording sessions and collaborative group activities promoted teamwork, creativity, and experiential learning. The interactive and structured nature of the two-day programme ensured active participation, reflection, and skill development throughout the workshop. Overall, the programme successfully enhanced the digital teaching competencies of pre-service teachers and prepared them to meet the evolving demands of the contemporary education sector.
Follow-up plan	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Participants will apply the knowledge and skills gained in e-content development, presentation techniques and digital pedagogy in their academic coursework and teaching practice. • Participants will be encouraged to create instructional videos, presentations and interactive e-learning materials as part of lesson planning and micro-teaching activities. • The digital tools, LMS platforms and learner engagement strategies introduced during the workshop will be utilised in future classroom and online teaching contexts.

4. Poster of the activity

The poster features a blue background with white and orange text and graphics. At the top right is the CHRIST University logo and name. The main title 'E-teaching Unlocked' is in large white font. Below it, an orange pill-shaped box contains the tagline 'Step Into the Future of Teaching.' A central portrait of Dr. Fr Biju K Chacko is framed in orange. Below the portrait, another orange pill-shaped box identifies him as the Resource Person and provides his title and affiliation. A white box at the bottom of the main section contains the event dates, time, and location. The footer is an orange bar with three columns of text listing the organizing faculty members.

5. Feedback summary

Feedback was collected through a Google Form consisting of rating-scale items, multiple-choice questions, and short open-ended responses.

Participants found the workshop engaging and valuable for its hands-on exposure to e-content creation and gamification; however, allocating more time for practice and pacing technical sessions would further enhance learning outcomes.

6. Impact Analysis

The workshop had a positive impact on participants by strengthening their understanding of digital pedagogy and increasing their confidence in creating and delivering e-content. Exposure to recording, editing, gamification tools and LMS platforms enabled participants to develop practical skills essential for technology-enabled teaching. The workshop also encouraged collaborative learning and helped participants recognise innovative ways to design engaging and learner-centred instructional materials.
