Summary of the Activity
Follow-up plan	The faculty workshop introduced Outcome-Based Education, emphasizing the importance of defining clear Programme Outcomes and Course Outcomes and mapping them to assessments for measurable learning. In the session on Constructive Alignment, participants explored how teaching methods and assessments must align with intended outcomes, supported by rubric-based evaluation. The faculty then engaged with Active Learning strategies such as think-pair-share, problem-based learning, and flipped classrooms, highlighting student ownership and engagement. The workshop also showcased Digital tools including provisions in Google Classroom, online quiz applications, and collaborative apps, with hands-on design of sample activities. Overall, the program strengthened faculty capacity to integrate learner-centred approaches, authentic assessments, and technology into their teaching practice.
