Event Description

Every great year on campus needs a great opening evening, and for us, that is Novatos. Held right at the start of the academic calendar, Novatos is a high-octane dance and performance showdown where every department steps onto one stage with a single ambition: to win, and to belong. It is the first time freshers and seniors alike feel the pulse of campus life all at once, as teams pour weeks of practice into a few unforgettable minutes. For many first-year students, Novatos is their very first taste of what this campus feels like when it comes alive, and for the seniors leading their teams, it is a chance to set the tone for the year ahead. The evening unfolds as a relay of high-energy acts, each one trying to outdo the last. Departments blend genres freely, It is this diversity of expression, all competing on equal footing, that gives Novatos its distinctive character among campus events.
